Summary of the resources that the school of Mathematics and Statistics provides to its Higher Degree by Research candidates

- A computer, standard and project specific software and the computer support;
- Access to the photocopying, fax, telephone, stationery, office space and the library;
- The postgraduate research coordinator available should a candidate have any concern about the candidature